Come to Church Desperate

Article by

John Piper

Founder & Teacher, desiringGod.org

It is beautifully fitting that Christians gather for corporate worship every week. When we do, we give united expression to our truth-rooted knowledge of the triune God and our treasure-rooted affections for all God is for us in Jesus. We have seen with the eyes of our hearts the supreme beauty of God and his ways (Ephesians 1:18). And we have come to cherish the supreme worth of this treasure (Matthew 13:44; Philippians 3:8).

And when we have completed our corporate exaltation of the glories of God, we continue that worship in a thousand daily tasks where the supreme worth of Christ governs our lives. This is what it means to be a Christian.

Come to Get

But it is not as though Christians experience steady-state fullness that is ready every Lord's Day to brim over in joyful praise as we gather for worship. God is glorified in worship not only by those who come full, but also by those who come desperately needy and pinning all their hopes on meeting God. The same heart of worship that says, "Thank you" and "Praise you," when full, also says, "I need you, I long for you, I thirst for you," when empty. It is the same savoring, the same treasuring.

Corporate worship is not a gathering only for overflow. The full may overflow. That is worship. The languishing come to drink at the fountain of God's life-giving word. That too is worship. It magnifies the necessity and desirableness of God. The soul-hungry come to eat at the banquet that is spread from the rich stores of Scripture. This also is worship.

Woe to the pastor who chastises his people for "coming to get" and not to give. If what the hungry people are coming to get is God, their hunger magnifies the worth of God's soul-satisfying beauty. If they are returning week after week for entertainment, the pastor had better look in the mirror for the cause, not in the people.

Depleted Disciples

When David says, "He restores my soul" (Psalm 23:3), he implies that the soul often needs restoring. Hence, we call out, "Restore to me the joy of your salvation" (Psalm 51:12). "Restore us, O God; let your face shine, that we may be saved!" (Psalm 80:3). "Restore us again, O God of our salvation" (Psalm 85:4). This experience is universal among Christians. It is partly owing to our being *sinner*s. Our old nature wars against the soul and tries to bring it to ruin (Galatians 5:17; Colossians 3:5; 1 Peter 2:11). Part of that warfare is depletion. Another part of our need for refreshing input is owing to our being creatures. We will always be creatures and therefore will always be in need of God's grace. Even perfected and glorified saints will still benefit from the ministry of other saints in the age to come, where there will be no sin. Otherwise, meaningful relationships would be nonexistent. Therefore, whether we think of ourselves as sinners or as creatures, we need help in maintaining a heart of worship. In view of this normal neediness of real Christians, God has designed us to depend on other humans to awaken and sustain and strengthen our worship — our knowing and treasuring God. This is clear from many considerations in the New Testament.

Hearts Sustained Through Humans

First, God has appointed that there be pastors and teachers in the church (Ephesians 4:11). He has required that they be “able to teach” (1 Timothy 3:2). This means that God designs for us to be helped by other human ministers of the word, not just by our own private reading and praying.

Second, it is clear that we need other ministers from the example Paul set in strengthening the churches he started:

They returned to Lystra and to Iconium and to Antioch, strengthening the souls of the disciples, encouraging them to continue in the faith, and saying that through many tribulations we must enter the kingdom of God. (Acts 14:21-22) God did not design Christians to be strong in faith and fervent in worship without other Christian ministers strengthening their souls.

Third, it is clear that our perseverance in joyful, faithful holiness and worship depends on other Christians exhorting us again and again with the truth of God’s word:

Take care, brothers, lest there be in any of you an evil, unbelieving heart, leading you to fall away from the living God. But exhort one another every day, as long as it is called “today,” that none of you may be hardened by the deceitfulness of sin. (Hebrews 3:12-13)

Escaping hardness of heart and persevering in joyful, sin-mortifying faith depend on the exhortations of other believers. We are not designed to survive without the ministry of the word from others.

Not a Defect

Fourth, it is clear that we stand in need of others who minister to us, because God designed the body of Christ this way and Paul said we need each other:

God arranged the members in the body, each one of them, as he chose. If all were a single member, where would the body be? As it is, there are many parts, yet one body. The eye cannot say to the hand, “I have no need of you,” nor again the head to the feet, “I have no need of you.” (1 Corinthians 12:18-21)

It is clear from Paul’s use of the word need in 1 Corinthians 12:21 that he does not see the Christian’s dependence on other Christians as a defect in our dependence on God. Total dependence on God’s grace does not mean no dependence on God’s means of grace. If God wills that our dependence on him sometimes be direct and unmediated, and sometimes be indirect and mediated, then we are no less totally dependent on God in either case.

Our physical lives depend on God and on food that he gives. Our emotional resources for patience depend on the Spirit and on the refreshing sleep that he gives. Our spiritual strength depends on God's word and on the ministers whom he sends to us.

Fifth, it is plain from Scripture that we need the ministry of the word from other Christians, because Paul commanded Timothy, "Preach the word" (2 Timothy 4:2). That is not a pointless command. Preaching is commanded because preaching is needed.

Among all the other ways in which the people of God help each other persevere in faith and lead lives of joyful worship, preaching is uniquely designed for its essential role in corporate worship. As people gather to give united expression to their knowledge of God and their love for God, preaching is distinctly designed by God to model this love by its exultation, and to serve both the knowledge and the love by its exposition. Its content and its demeanor are suited, by God's design, to restore and enlarge our knowledge of God, and to restore and enlarge our passion for God.

Today's Mercies

Ordinary Christian living is depleting. We are not designed to live on yesterday's mercies.

The steadfast love of the Lord never ceases;
his mercies never come to an end;
they are new every morning;
great is your faithfulness. (Lamentations 3:22-23)

Every day has its depleting trouble (Matthew 6:34), and every day has its restoring mercies (Lamentations 3:23). The corporate gathering, therefore, is not only for Christians who come to church overflowing with faith and love, but also for those who come languishing, dry, and desperate for new mercies. And God has so arranged the body that these mercies often come through the ministry of fellow Christians.

So, come to church desperate for more of God, and expect that he will meet you through his people.

“BY THE WAY, WHAT IS OUR POLICY ON.....”

Flowers from Funeral Services

From time to time people from our congregation donate flower arrangements to the church following the funeral of a loved one. We always appreciate the thought and gesture. We simply want people to be aware that most of the time those arrangements will not be placed at the front of the auditorium. A lot of work and thought goes into coordinating the platform area, and often donated flower arrangements do not fit with what has been planned.

Again, we always accept donated flowers, but it is very likely that they will be placed somewhere other than the front of the auditorium. Our goal is to seek appropriate places where arrangements fit with the existing surroundings.

Baptism/Membership

If you would like to be a part of the next Baptism/Membership Service on Sunday evening, October 28th, please let one of the pastors know by Sunday, October 7th.

Your first step after contacting a pastor is to fill out a membership form. The forms are located at the Information Center and on our Website.

We have both student forms (for those in high school or below) and adult forms.

Please turn in your membership form by Sunday, October 7th. Children must be at least 10 years old to be considered for baptism and membership.

Missionary Christmas Offering Sunday, October 14th

Every year we take an offering to give to our missionaries as a Christmas gift. The money collected will be divided equally among our supported missionaries to encourage them during the Christmas season.

A gift-wrapped box will be at the Information Area all day for you to give your gift.

Reminder: This is a non-taxable gift and cannot be claimed on your income tax.

Beacon of Hope Update

Local Evangelism Month

What happens at Beacon of Hope on a Tuesday evening? What exactly does a participant do? Come and find out on Sunday, October 21 as the Beacon presentation includes a video produced by Ethan Painter. Learn how the Lord is working through the Beacon ministry and about ways that you can get involved at Beacon.

Food Drive

Beacon of Hope is in need of non-perishable food! The number of people coming to Beacon for emergency food has greatly increased while supplies at the Greater Lansing Food Bank have not been as plentiful as in the past. Beacon needs: Pasta and pasta sauce, tuna, peanut butter, canned fruits and vegetables, canned soup, rice, oil, and baking supplies (flour, sugar, baking soda & powder). There will be a bin outside of the church offices the entire month of October for you to leave your donations. Thank you!

Calling all deer hunters – Bag a Buck for Beacon!

Are you a hunter who needs to make space in your freezer for this year's hunt? Then Beacon of Hope can help! Beacon accepts donations of professionally-processed venison. Need an excuse to bag another buck? Consider hunting one just for Beacon! Contact Karen Leif to make arrangements to deliver venison to Beacon.

Library News Check it Out!

The Non-fiction video and Children's video collections are being refreshed!

The old VHS tapes will soon be removed from the Non-fiction videos, and about 50 new videos will be replacing them. Many of these cover church history, Bible history, and places in the Bible. Many of these videos would provide good background for small group as well as personal study.

The complete Cherub Wings series will soon be available in DVD. This series does a really super job making the basics of Christianity and Christian living accessible to preschool and early elementary school children. When behavior is addressed, it is in light of the Gospel and grace, not simply as a way to please others.

Four new Torchlighters videos are also joining the Children's videos soon. Torchlighters is a series of well-told, animated biographies of famous (and not so famous) Christians throughout history. Each dvd includes pdf files of worksheets that can be printed off and used in a class setting. Adults, don't be shy. These are great videos for you, too.

Check out what's new in Your Church Library anytime at TIny Cat, the library catalog: <https://www.librarycat.org/lib/FBCSaintJohns>. Got questions about items in the catalog? Do a search, and click on the button near an item that says "Click to email your church librarian to find out more about this." The account is monitored daily, and you will get a reply.

Currently there are 2,970 items in Your Church Library. There's something for you!

Area: South Central Michigan Started ministry in September of 1994

Children: Eric: 9/29/84 Kelli: 3/17/88

Brian was born and raised in Lansing. At the age of 12 with his mom, he put his faith in the Lord Jesus. He met Sherri at the age of 17 while working at a local restaurant. Shortly after that he really began to learn what it meant to be a Christian. He was involved in Awana as a leader for two years, as a director for two years, and then a commander for four years. He also served on the Missionary Advisory Board. Brian has an Associates Degree from LCC in Business Accounting and worked as an accountant before becoming a missionary.

Sherri was raised in a Christian home and attended Maple Grove Baptist in Lansing, MI. When Sherri was five, her mom had a Good News Club and talked about sin. When her mom asked if anyone would like to ask Jesus into their heart, Sherri raised her hand and put her faith in the Lord. She went on a missions trip to Mexico when she was 16 and told the Lord, “Whatever you want me to do I’ll do.” She came home thanking the Lord for all she had experienced. The following school year she met Brian. They were married in 1983.

Brian felt the Lord’s call into ministry at a Home Missions Conference in Chicago in 1992. He told Sherri of his desires, but she didn’t want to think of moving. In 1992 Brian asked her about being a missionary with Awana, and eventually, God spoke to her heart (Jan 1994) and brought to mind Mexico and her promise. They submitted their application with Awana. The Lord opened the doors in Awana Clubs International in South Central Michigan, so Brian and Sherri didn’t have to move far. They have just completed their 24th year as the Awana Missionaries for South Central Michigan. They now also cover South West Michigan.

During the Club year there are many calls to make, people to contact, and clubs to visit where Brian sometimes leads council time and training sessions. This is most often done in the evening with daytime hours spent in the office. Brian and Sherri visit churches on Sundays to present the Awana ministry. In the spring comes Bible Quizzes, Awana Games, and Grand Prix’s. In August and September there are Director’s meetings plus the planning for the leadership conferences. They oversee Awana programs in more than 140 churches.

We would like to thank Pastor Tim for his visits, calls, and prayers. Thank you to Pastor Ron for performing the funeral service. A thank you to Pam Sischo and all that helped with the delicious meal.

Also, thank you for the Gideon Bibles donated in his memory. It was all very much appreciated!

The Family of Robert A. Curtis

Dear Church Family,

Thank you so much for your prayers, cards, and words of encouragement. It was so comforting to us at the time of Dad Ordway's sudden homegoing.

Thank you also for the Gideon Bibles given in honor of Dad.

The Family of Richard "Dick" Ordway

Dear Church Family,

We have been so very blessed by the love and concern shown to us in this very difficult time. From food to financial gifts given to Justin and the boys, to the fantastic luncheon that was prepared and served with such little notice. We just want to say a very heartfelt thank you for being Jesus' hands and feet.

Sincerely,

Pete, Sherry, and Justin Nichols

Do You Know What Released Time Bible Class Is?

Released Time - a Michigan law that requires public schools to release children, who have written parental permissions, for up to two hours per week to attend religious instruction classes at a nearby location.

Bible - The oldest book in the world that millions of people still read every day! RBM Ministries is non-denominational in its teaching.

Classes - Not just “fun and games” - but vital spiritual and character-building education in a happy, enjoyable setting.

History - We represent over 75 years of service to school-age children - one of America’s oldest Christian ministries, designed to reach and serve boys and girls of all ages. RBM Ministries serves many churches in your area.

First Baptist Church provides transportation from the town elementary schools to our church once a month on the 3rd Friday of each month during the school year. Debbie Price, our supported missionary from RBM Ministries teaches the class. (She also does our Vacation Bible School!). If you would like your child(ren) to attend this class, you must fill out one of their permission slips which we have at the Children’s Check in Desk or Oakview and Gateway Elementary have them also. You must return the form to the school your child attends, or if you home school, you may turn in the form to the Church office or bring it with you to the first class. If your children attend any of the rural Elementary schools in the St. Johns School District, please check with the school office to see if they have a class and when it meets.
